

Colorado Human Resource Association Conference

Thanks to everyone who visited our booth at this year's Colorado Human Resources Association (CHRA) conference held on Friday January 21st. Info Cubic employees Dan, Beth, Laurie, and Geoff had a great time reaching out to the many local businesses in attendance and discussing their current screening needs.

However, the day was spent not just discussing our services with interested parties, but also discussing local business and the community atmosphere in Denver and Colorado as a whole. This year's CHRA annual conference at Invesco Field at Mile High Stadium was a terrific experience, and what a view of Denver we had from the Info Cubic booth!

We enjoyed visiting with everyone and look forward to being back next year.

Victim Advocacy Volunteer

On January 4th, 2011, Laurie Stapleton completed a 50 hour training course to become a volunteer victim advocate with the Arapahoe County Sheriff's Department.

The Victim Assistance Program is dedicated to providing help to citizens who have been victimized or otherwise traumatized within our community. The Victim Assistance Program currently consists of a 33 volunteers and 3 civilian full time personnel. At any given moment, you might find a volunteer at a residence, providing crises intervention to the parents of a runaway teen, in a high school classroom talking about dating violence, or accompanied by a uniformed deputy making a death notification.

The victim assistance program has a two-fold mission. First, and foremost, they provide support to the victims and their families during the chaos following a traumatic event. Secondly, members assist with the emotional needs of the victim and family so that deputies, investigators and other emergency personnel may perform their duties. Program members serve as liaison between the victim and the people who are charged with the responsibility of investigating the crime scene.

Anthem Fight for Air Climb

Info Cubic strongly believes in giving back to the community and encourages its employees to volunteer whenever possible. It is with this spirit of volunteerism that several Info Cubic employees are training for Denver's 'Anthem Fight for Air Climb' to take place this year on Sunday, February 27th.

This annual event in February sees hundreds of participants run up the stairs of Denver's tallest skyscraper, The Republic Plaza. This 56 flight stair climb benefits the American Lung Association, and has become a local tradition. 56 flights of stairs is no easy task, but employees such as Beth Brown, Sarah Morris, Geoffrey Jensen, and Jessica Sprague are up to the challenge, and are already training! We wish them the best of luck. Look for the results in the March newsletter.
